

The time has come
To be set free
You're the only one
Who holds the key

The end of your day
A journey complete
Not wanting to stay
You get back on your feet

Move on with tact
Keep your vision straight ahead
No need to look back
Everything has been said

Nothing can change
The way that you feel
Isn't it strange
How you learn to heal

The problem that plagued you
Akin to the knife
You did what you had to
To move on with your life

You're not giving up
You're going your own way
To refill your cup
With love you'll find some day

Don't be in a hurry
To love is not a crime
No rush, no haste, no fury
For these things take time
